THE MISSED CALL STARTER

One free n8n workflow, five prompts and one text message. Enough to stop losing the urgent jobs this week.

What you get

- The lead sorter workflow (sort-website-leads-by-urgency.json)
- A 6-step setup
- 5 prompts from the full manual
- A missed-call text you can copy

Portions drafted with AI assistance and reviewed by the author. General information, not legal advice. No results are promised. n8n, OpenAI, Google and Twilio are trademarks of their owners; not affiliated. © 2026 Gulf Coast Automation Press · gavindimartino3@gmail.com

Set up the lead sorter

1. Make a Google Sheet, tab named CRM, columns: id, date, name, email, phone, service, source, score, status, notes.
2. In n8n: Workflows, Import from File, pick the JSON.
3. Log Lead to Sheet: pick your Google login, paste your sheet ID.
4. Score Lead Urgency: add your OpenAI key. OpenAI bills per use, so set a limit.
5. Edit These Settings: your email and your trade.
6. Point your website form at the webhook URL and send yourself a test lead.

5 prompts

```
Read this request for a {trade} company. Label it HOT, WARM or COLD. HOT means water, gas, no heat/AC, or a roof open to weather. One line on why.
```

```
Reply to this inquiry in under 70 words. Say we can help, don't promise a price, and give the booking link.
```

```
Write a 60-word thank-you after their {service} job with our review link.
```

```
Write a calm public reply to this bad review. Own what's fair, offer to fix it offline, no arguing.
```

```
Rewrite this so it sounds like a local owner wrote it on his phone between jobs. Short sentences.
```

The missed-call text

```
Hi, this is [Your Business]. Sorry we missed your call! How can we help? Reply STOP to opt out.
```

Send it once, only to someone who just called you. Marketing texts need written consent (TCPA), and Florida adds its own rules.

Want the other seven?

The Missed Call Manual has 8 workflows: missed-call text-back, lead sorter, late-night email reply, review ask, prospect homework, intro emails saved as drafts, a Monday summary and an opt-out handler. Plus 30 prompts and plain-English compliance pages.
